ROBERT E. TAYLOR ST

ROBERT TAYLOR JR., A PHARMACIST WHO ALSO RUNS HIS FAMILY'S FARM NEAR SPOTSYLVANIA, VA., RECENTLY MADE A SIGNIFICANT GIFT TO NAME THE NEW SOFTBALL FACILITY IN HONOR OF HIS FATHER, ROBERT TAYLOR SR., AND HIS SON, ROBERT TAYLOR III. TAYLOR HAS BEEN AN AVID TERRAPIN FAN SINCE THE EARLY 1980S, AND IS PROUD OF TOUTING ALL THAT MARYLAND HAS ACCOMPLISHED, BOTH ON AND OFF THE PLAYING FIELD.

STADIUM

It's hard to believe the Robert E. Taylor Stadium is entering its fifth full season as the home of the Terps. The $3.0 million structure is a state-of-the-art athletic facility that ranks among the premier softball facilities in the country.

FACILITY AMENITIES

- Stadium seating for more than 1,000 fans
- Underground dugouts with restrooms
- Two bullpen areas
- Four batting cages
- Light towers
- Concessions area
- Ticket booth
- Enclosed press box
- Natural Bermuda grass outfield
- Electronic scoreboard
- Ample parking

Taylor Stadium sits adjacent to the Comcast Center on the north side of campus, where basketball, wrestling, volleyball and gymnastics competitions take place. Student-athletes have access to locker room and weight training facilities, athletic department offices and the academic support and career development center.

Remarkably, Opening Day of Taylor Stadium featured a Maryland no-hitter in its game on April 10, 2002 against local rival Towson. Amanda Bettker, who owns Maryland's second-best career ERA (1.61), fanned seven batters en route to her first complete game no-hitter and a 7-0 win for the Terps.

Since the inaugural game in April of 2002, the Terrapins have compiled a 57-19 record at home at Taylor Stadium.

SEASON OUTLOOK

TERPS POISED TO MAKE RUN AT NCAA TOURNAMENT BERTH

The sights and sounds that have been emanating from the University of Maryland's softball complex this past fall and winter have been the kind coaches like to see and hear. As second-year coach Laura Watten tells it, they reflect the work ethic, intensity, and single-mindedness of a Terrapin team poised to make a run at the program's first NCAA tournament appearance since 1999.

A roster featuring 11 returnees from last year's 32-27 squad has been infused with nine talented newcomers – including five Division I transfers – and the resulting blend has quickly elevated prospects and expectations for Watten's team, but none more so than those of the players and coaches themselves.

"I definitely feel that this team is poised and focused on making a run at an NCAA bid," says Watten, who is in her second season as the Terps' head coach after a successful stint at Bethune-Cookman College, where she led the Wildcats to the Super Regionals in 2005. "The enthusiasm and excitement in our returning players and freshmen, but most importantly, the addition of five transfer players who have competed consistently in postseason play at their former colleges, has fused into a very hungry and eager chemistry throughout the program. The growth of this team during the fall season was fun to watch and experience, and, although we cannot predict the outcome of our season, this is a team that is driven to achieve their goals, which means reaching the top on a consistent basis, one opponent at a time."

PITCHING

Watten likes the makeup of her pitching staff, which features a pair of returning veterans and a senior transfer from Tennessee with 34 career wins to her credit. Add in the possibility that first baseman Lindsay Klein may return to the pitcher's circle, where she enjoyed tremendous high school and club team success, and it's easy to see why Watten is excited about her stable of arms in 2007.

"Overall, our pitching staff is physically extremely versatile, while at the same time possessing the greatest leaders on the field," says Watten. "We have the ability to rotate, make adjustments and challenge the toughest offensive teams in the country with the experience, mentality and depth in the circle."

Stacey Jennings was one of the Terps' key off-season transfers; the senior from Aurora, Colo., posted a 34-21 record in three seasons at Tennessee, appearing in 90 games (61 starts) during the 2003, 2004 and 2005 seasons. Twenty-one of her victories came during her freshman year of 2003, when she turned in one of the best seasons ever (21-15, 1.73) by a Vol rookie.

Watten is hopeful for a breakout season by Meredith Nelles, who went 9-9 in 36 appearances as a freshman in 2006. Nelles underwent surgery to repair disk damage in her back this fall and is expected to be at full strength when the season opens in mid-February.

Senior Abbey Welch also figures prominently in Maryland's pitching plans in 2007. A two-way player who also saw significant time as a starting outfielder last season, Welch worked 68 innings last season and posted a 2-5 record with a 3.29 ERA.

A wild card in the Terps' pitching plans could be Klein, one of the team veterans who has played exclusively at first base during her career but did make one appearance in the pitcher's circle last year. The Terps' coaching staff worked with Klein extensively this fall in hopes of rekindling the success she enjoyed at El Modena High in southern California, when she compiled a career record of 73-22 (0.69 ERA). Klein likely will be used in a relief role.

CATCHING

Although this is a position dominated by transfers and newcomers, it is shaping up as an area of strength for the Terps, according to Watten. Senior Jennifer Wellborn, a senior transfer from Birmingham Southern, and junior transfer Brittany Bessho, who played the 2004 and 2005 seasons at Tennessee, are expected to combine for a solid 1-2 punch at a position that was handled last year by the now graduated Nikki Smith. Both Wellborn and Bessho bring extensive Division I experience to the Terrapin program.

Wellborn was a late-summer pickup by the Terps after electing to transfer once Birmingham Southern officials decided to drop its athletic program from Division I to Division III. The Colorado native enters 2007 with 159 career Division I appearances to her credit, and is coming off the best year of her three seasons as a Panther, when she established career highs in batting average (.293), homers (9) and RBIs (34).

Bessho, a native of Georgia, made 64 career starts at UT, helping the Vols to the school's first-ever College World Series appearance in 2005. She caught four no-hitters as a freshman, and she batted .236 and posted a perfect fielding percentage as a sophomore. She sat out the past year at Maryland while satisfying NCAA transfer regulations.

Alex Gagne, a true freshman from Mission Viejo, Calif., is expected to lend quality depth as a rookie once she returns to full health. Gagne, a member of Watten's initial recruiting class, has been recuperating from a major knee injury suffered during her senior year of high school. Junior Medley McGuire, one of the team's most inspirational players during her two seasons in a Terp uniform, should also contribute in a utility role.

"Our catching staff is deep with experience and leadership," says Watten. "Jennifer [Wellborn] and Brittany [Bessho] possess the knowledge and aggressive attitude necessary to lead and direct the field of play. They have the confidence of their pitchers and teammates and are an extremely important asset to the leadership on the field. Alex Gagne will spend a good amount of the spring season gaining strength and healing, while working with the pitching/catching staff on development, and Medley will continue to do the same as well."

INFIELD

When Watten sizes up her infield personnel, she sees a talent pool that is as deep as it is wide. From one corner to the other, the Terps boast perhaps the most talented collection of infielders in program history. Not only do all four starters return from the second-best defensive squad in the ACC last year, but the Terps have added a pair of stellar transfers from Bethune-Cookman College -- three-time All-American shortstop Amber Jackson and her sister, Sarde Stewart, who significantly upgrades the Terps' depth with her ability to play both corner positions.

Jackson and Stewart, who played instrumental roles in Bethune-Cookman's run to the NCAA Super Regionals two years ago, join a group of infielders that includes all four returning starters from the 2006 squad: first baseman Lindsay Klein, third baseman Lindsey Ubrun, second baseman Keri Lounge, and shortstop Whitney Reigel. In addition, Bessho has the experience and ability to help out at third base.

"Overall, our infield is a great strength for us in 2007," Watten says. "In our first recruiting year for the program, we have added leadership, experience, speed, arm strength and enthusiasm to fill gaps left by graduates of 2006. With so many new players on the field, our greatest focus in the fall season was to create as many opportunities as possible for the defense to 'gel' and become a more cohesive unit. We were able to fine-tune our opportunity areas, while at the same time focus on perfecting our strengths. Our infield production will benefit from the added arm strength and range from the middle infielders as well as from the experience and sound skill on the corners."

Klein and Lounge, who have been starters since their freshman years, have been mainstays on the right side of the infield since joining the Terps in 2004. Each has started well over 150 games the past three seasons, and both have proven ability to hit for average and power. Klein, a first-team All-ACC selection in 2005, rates among the top hitters in program history, ranking third in average (.297), fifth in homers (16) and fifth in RBI's (101) entering her final collegiate season.

Lounge, likewise, prominently figures on a number of Maryland's career batting lists, ranking first in triples (8), sixth in runs batted in (109), and sixth in homers (15). A clutch hitter as a Terp, Lounge set career bests in triples (6) and homers (5) last year while driving in 31 runs.

At third base, the Terps welcome back sophomore Lindsey Ubrun, a member of the All-ACC second team as a freshman in 2006. Ubrun, who like Klein hails from southern California, ranked fourth in the ACC in homers (11) last year – she was second among freshmen – in addition to ranking in the ACC's top 10 in RBI's (9th, 37), total bases (6th, 98) and slugging percentage (6th, .590). Ubrun's 11 HR's and 37 RBI's led the Terps.

Reigel, a junior, stepped in and played admirably at shortstop last year, but will likely shift to another position to make way for Jackson. Reigel is a versatile defensive player who can also play second and has been working in the outfield. Jackson, who has one season of eligibility remaining, is a career .465 hitter who has belted 34 homers and driven in 175 runs during her career, but she may be even more accomplished from a defensive standpoint, utilizing her size, speed and range to help shut down the left side of the infield to opposing batters.

Stewart, Jackson's sister and former Bethune-Cookman teammate, transfers in with two seasons of eligibility remaining. This past fall, she showed she can handle both first base and third base in addition to adding another powerful bat to the Terrapins' lineup.

Sophomore Devon Williams' versatility allows her to help out at second and third, while true freshman Alex Schultz, a prep standout from Colorado, is expected to lend depth in the middle infield positions. Both Williams and Schultz have the ability to help out in the outfield.

OUTFIELD

The Terps return three letterwinners to the outfield, headed by junior Jenny Belak, a dangerous weapon offensively and defensively because of her outstanding speed, and Welch, who is expected to see significant time in center field when not in the pitcher's circle. Junior Meghan Booth, who played in 45 games (38 starts) a year ago, rounds out the trio of returning letterwinners.

Newcomers include Jennings, who figures to play a prominent role in right field when not working in the pitchers' circle, and speedy walk-on Tierra Booth. Other potential contributors include infielders Reigel and Schultz, both of whom are being developed to work in the outfield, and Erica Strudler, who returns after redshirting as a true freshman last year.

Belak has been the Terps' leadoff hitter the past two seasons; she significantly improved her offensive numbers as a sophomore, finishing as the Terps' leading hitter (.359) in addition to belting out eight doubles, three triples and stealing a team-high 13 bases. In two seasons, she has swiped 20 bases in 28 attempts. The versatile outfielder, who can play all three outfield positions, has seen time mostly in right field and center during her career.

Welch has been a solid and consistent contributor the past two seasons since transferring from Longwood College in Virginia. When not in the pitcher's circle, where she has fashioned a 9-9 career record as a Terp, she has spent a significant amount of time patrolling center field, where she has been a dependable defensive fixture with a solid arm.

Booth, who also has the ability to play all three outfield positions, was a 38-game starter a year ago and is expected to see significant playing time again this season.

"Our outfield strengths are depth in position, arm strength and experience," Watten says. "We will be led by two seniors and one junior, while ensuring that we have options for rotation when Stacey [Jennings] and Abbey [Welch] are being utilized on the mound."

SCHEDULE

A demanding schedule – both in and out of conference play – awaits the 2007 edition of the Terrapin softball program. In all, Maryland will face 18 teams that advanced to the 2006 NCAA Tournament, including three that advanced to the College World Series and eight that were ranked in the final USA Today/NFCA Top 25 poll of 2006.

The Terps launch their 2007 campaign in mid-February with three consecutive tournaments on the road, including a second straight appearance in the Palm Springs Classic, a four-day, 25-team festival Feb. 22-25 generally regarded as the nation's top in-season tournament. The Terps' six-game slate includes matchups with Nevada, Texas, UCLA, Loyola Marymount, Cal, and UNLV. The field includes six of last year's eight WCWS teams.

Prior to their trip to Palm Springs, however, the Terps venture first to Boca Raton, Fla., where they will meet 2005 NCAA champion Michigan on the opening day of the FAU-Dunkin' Donuts Classic, slated for Feb. 16-18. After competing at Palm Springs a week later, the Terps return to Florida to participate in the March 2-4 USF-Louisville Slugger Classic hosted by South Florida.

A 33-game home slate at newly-named Robert E. Taylor Stadium gets underway with back-to-back tournaments hosted by the Terrapins – the March 9-11 Maryland Invitational and the March 16-18 Terrapin Spring Break Invitational.

Maryland will open its 21-game Atlantic Coast Conference slate at the end of March when it travels to Charlottesville to take on Virginia March 24-25. One week later, the Terps are back on the road for a three-game conference series at Florida State before returning home for ACC matchups vs. North Carolina (April 7-8) and Georgia Tech (April 14-15). Maryland then heads back on the road for an April 21-22 series vs. Virginia Tech – one of five ACC teams that appeared in the NCAA Regionals last year – before returning to College Park to play host to ACC rivals NC State (April 28-29) and Boston College (May 5-6).

The annual Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament is slated for May 10-13 in Tallahassee, Fla. The NCAA's road to the Women's College World Series gets underway the following week, May 18-20.

HEAD COACH LAURA WATTEN

SECOND SEASON AT MARYLAND • 10TH OVERALL
TEXAS-ARLINGTON '92

Laura Watten has a proven track record in meeting some big-time challenges. Like overcoming injuries during her college career at Texas-Arlington in the early '90s. Or, as head coach at tiny Bethune-Cookman College, guiding the unheralded Lady Cats to the NCAA Super Regionals in 2005. Even now while living in the heart of Washington Redskins country, given her die-hard allegiance to the Dallas Cowboys.

None of it should be surprising, though. Watten's way is the "can-do" way, and it's precisely the approach the second-year Terrapin mentor has taken in her quest to drive Maryland's softball program to national prominence. Hired just prior to the start of the 2005-06 academic year, Watten has worked extensively to elevate all aspects of the program – recruiting, scheduling, student-athlete development -- in an effort to put the Terps in a position to succeed on a national scale.

If Watten's past success and the results in her first year at Maryland are indicators, the Terps are well on their way to making their mark. Since assuming her post, it has been the team's attention to detail and focus on preparation that has stood out. But Watten, too, has significantly upgraded Maryland's non-conference schedule – highlighted by consecutive appearances in the Palm Springs Classic, the nation's premier in-season tournament – in addition to making Maryland softball front and center on the recruiting trail.

Considered one of the rising young coaches in the college game, Watten was fresh off leading Bethune-Cookman College of Daytona Beach, Fla., to the 2005 NCAA Division I Super Regionals when she was tapped to lead the Terps' program. In guiding the Wildcats to a 49-win season – including a regional title over host Florida, South Florida and Central Florida – Watten was named the 2005 National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) Southeast Region Coach of the Year. Her Cats ended the 2005 season with a final No. 18 ranking by the NFCA/USA Today.

During Watten's eight years as head coach at B-CC, the Wildcats made five NCAA Regional appearances and captured five conference titles. The four-time MEAC coach of the Year posted an eight-year mark of 322-207 and averaged more than 40 wins per season.

B-CC's signature campaign under Watten came in 2005, the 49-win effort highlighted by a title at the NCAA's Gainesville Regional, as well as victories over Florida (twice), Northwestern, Central Florida, South Florida, Virginia Tech, Florida Atlantic and UMass, all of which advanced to the 2005 NCAA Tournament. In total, the Wildcats were 21-17 vs. teams that finished in the top 100 of the NCAA's RPI (Rating Percentage Index) that year. Statistically in 2005, the Wildcats ranked fourth in the nation in stolen bases per game, 10th in batting average and team ERA, 12th in double plays turned and 25th in scoring.

Off the field, Watten's teams have posted a team GPA of 3.0 or better every single year and boast a 100 percent graduation rate. Watten's players have been cited as NFCA Academic All-Americans 27 times, and three of her Terps earned ACC All-Academic honors in 2006.

"Laura Watten is a proven winner who is committed to success on and off the field of play," said associate athletic director Dave Haglund when he announced Watten's hiring. "She impressed everyone with her passion, vision and `can-do' attitude. We're delighted to have her join the Terrapin family and assume the leadership reins of the Maryland softball program."

Watten is a 1992 graduate of the University of Texas-Arlington where she played catcher and first base and helped her team to a conference title in 1989 and top 25 rankings in two seasons. She was a three-time all-conference selection for the Mavericks and went on to an assistant coaching position at the school. She was named head coach at Bethune-Cookman prior to the 1998 season.

Watten is currently enrolled in graduate school at Texas Women's University, where she is working on a master's degree in kinesiology.

A member of the National Fastpitch Coaches Association, Watten has served on the NCAA South Region ranking committee and the NFCA's Top 25 voting panel. She also has been an active member of the Diversity Committee within the NFCA.

A native of Dallas, Texas, Watten currently resides in Annapolis. Her parents, Nancy and Paul, are their daughter's biggest fans and are prominent fans at Terp games.

ALISSA SMITH

ASSISTANT COACH
SECOND SEASON AT MARYLAND
EIGHTH SEASON OVERALL

When new Maryland head coach Laura Watten decided to join the Terrapins in August 2005, she knew that pivotal to her strategy in building the program was having her assistant at Bethune-Cookman, Alissa Smith, join her as the lead assistant on the coaching staff.

At Maryland, Smith is responsible for working with both infielders and outfielders, recruiting, and assisting in all aspects of the program.

"Alissa is a tremendous asset," says Watten. "She is extremely committed to the players on and off the field. She is tireless when it comes to practice, scouting, recruiting, and doing anything else it takes to succeed as a program."

Prior to joining the Terps in September 2005, Smith spent six years as an assistant softball coach at Bethune-Cookman College under Watten in Daytona Beach, Fla. At Bethune-Cookman, Smith helped lead the Lady Wildcats to five straight Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) championships from 1999-2004 with corresponding NCAA regional appearances. In 2005, the team also won the NCAA Regional at Gainesville, Fla., and advanced to the NCAA Super Regional at the University of Texas. B-CC finished No. 18 in the final Top 25 poll of the season. The National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) awarded Bethune-Cookman the South Region Coaching Staff of the Year in 2005.

Smith's collegiate career began at Daytona Beach Community College, where she played her freshman and sophomore seasons, earning her team's Gold Glove Award her second year. Smith then transferred to Florida A&M University, where she played second base and shortstop and helped lead the Rattlers to a MEAC title her senior season. Smith earned her team's defensive player of the year award that year.

Smith worked as a pharmacy technician in Orlando for two years before joining Bethune-Cookman's coaching staff as an assistant to Watten. She received her degree from Phoenix College in 2005.

An Oak Hill, Fla., native, Smith now resides in Annapolis.

TRENA PEEL

ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND

Trena Peel, a former collegiate All-American at LSU and a two-time all-star in the National Pro Fastpitch (NPF) league, is in her first season as a full-time assistant coach with the Terrapins.

"We are extremely excited to add Trena to our coaching staff," said head coach Laura Watten. "She has great energy and brings a wealth of experience to the program. Trena will be a great factor in the success of the team as she will be working with all aspects of the game, specifically pitching."

Peel comes to College Park after a three-year stint in the NPF, where she played for the Chicago Bandits (2006), New York Juggernaut (2005) and Akron Racers (2004). During her rookie season of 2004, Peel led the NPF in homers (5) and stolen bases (27) while appearing in 61 games and being selected to the all-star team. In 2005, she made her second consecutive appearance on the all-star team while leading the Juggernaut in runs (23), triples (4), walks (22) and stolen bases (16). She batted .233 and drove in 11 runs for Chicago in 2006.

She is a graduate of LSU, where she starred for the Tigers from 1999-2002. As a senior in 2002, she earned second team All-American honors from the NFCA, was a semifinalist for the USA Softball Collegiate Player of the Year award, and was the SEC Athlete of the year. The three-time All-SEC choice was a two-time selection to the All-South Regional team. For her career, she batted .323 and set a school record with 27 triples.

Internationally, Peel also was a member of the 1999 USA Junior Olympic softball team and played on the 2001 USA National Red Team. She was selected to the USA Elite Team in 2002 and 2003.

A native of Aurora, Colo., Peel was an assistant coach at George Washington University where she served as fielding, pitching and hitting coach.

ABBEY WELCH

PITCHER/OUTFIELD
5-5 • SENIOR
BATS: L • THROWS: R
LA PLATA, MD.
MAURICE J. MCDONOUGH HS

Watten on Welch: "Abbey is one of the best defensive pitchers I have ever seen. She has an incredibly competitive mentality and she sets a tone of 'hunger' when she is in the circle. Abbey's speed and movement of pitches give us variety and depth, which makes her a strong compliment to the pitching rotation. Abbey is also one of our greatest strengths in the outfield and will be counted on as our starting center fielder when not pitching. She has tremendous speed and is extremely quick on the bases, which provides us with a great advantage in having a true defensive pitcher and offensive threat as well."

As a Junior (2006): Finished with a 2-5 record and a 3.29 ERA, second-best among returning pitchers ... pitched a perfect game in a March 22 win over Morgan State, the only perfect game of the year by an ACC player, and only the seventh in Maryland history ... saw significant time in the outfield ... had nine multiple-hit games ... tied for third on the team with 25 runs ... belted six doubles and three triples ... had 12 sacrifice hits, tied for the most among Terrapins ... fourth on team with an on-base percentage of .381 ... stole five bases in eight attempts ... had one run scored, two hits and three RBIs in victory over Cornell (March 11) ... notched six assists in a win over Delaware State (April 5) ... recorded three sacrifice hits in win over Delaware (May 3).

ACC SOFTBALL

HISTORY OF THE ACC

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference bylaws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name officially became the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

On June 30, 2003, conference membership increased to 11 with the announcement that the University of Miami and Virginia Tech had accepted invitations to join the league beginning in the 2004-05 year. Boston College was officially welcomed to the league on Oct. 17, 2003 and entered for the 2005-06 year.

"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

2007 MARYLAND SOFTBALL

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

DEEP ROOTS, BROAD IMPACT

Charles Benedict Calvert founded the Maryland Agricultural College in 1856 with the goal of creating a school that would offer outstanding practical knowledge to him and his neighbors and be "an institution superior to any other."

One hundred and fifty years later, the University of Maryland has blossomed from its roots as the state's first agricultural college and one of America's original land grant institutions into a model of the modern research university. It is the state's greatest asset for its economic development and its future, and has made its mark in the nation and the world.

Calvert would be astounded by the depth and breadth of research activities, innovative educational programs, and the single-minded pursuit of excellence that are part of the University of Maryland today. Maryland is ranked 18th among the nation's top public research universities by U.S. News & World Report, with 31 academic programs in the Top 10 and 92 in the Top 25. It is also ranked No. 37th in the world, according to the Institute of Higher Education at at Shanghai's Jiao Tong University.

Maryland is the state's premier center of research and graduate education and the public institution of choice for undergraduate students of exceptional ability and promise. The faculty includes three Nobel laureates, six Pulitzer Prize winners, a three-time Emmy Award winner, 40 members of national academies and scores of Fulbright scholars. The university focuses great attention on the highest academic standards, affordability for all qualified students, and a President's Promise program that guarantees opportunity for extraordinary extracurricular and professional experiences for each student.

It has earned a national reputation for its enriched educational experiences for undergraduates, including such widely imitated living/learning programs as College Park Scholars; Gemstone, a unique program that brings teams of students together from across disciplines to tackle specific technical problems; and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program, sponsored jointly by the A. James Clark School of Engineering and the Robert H. Smith School of Business, and widely recognized as the most successful student entrepreneurship program in the nation.

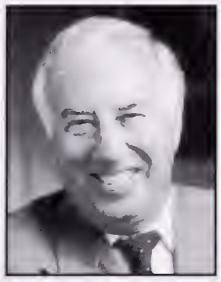
These programs are guided by outstanding faculty whose accomplishments in research abound. Whether the issue is Mideast peace, cutting-edge research in nanoscience, homeland security or bioscience advances, Maryland faculty are selected for national leadership and are making news. Many recent major faculty initiatives receiving significant external support strengthen our homeland security endeavors—centers for research on agrosecurity and emergency management; intermodal freight transportation security; behavioral and social analyses of terrorism and responses to terrorism; astrophysics and advanced world climate and weather prediction; and a national Center for Advanced Study of Language.

In addition to its academic prowess, Maryland is also home to the Terrapins, whose athletic achievements are a perennial source of pride for nearly 250,000 alumni and residents of the state. In 2005-2006, the Terrapins brought home national championships in four sports — men's soccer, field hockey, competitive cheer and women's basketball — more than any university in the nation.

In 2004, Maryland's School of Music hosted the National Symphony Orchestra in its first university residency, and its 2006 opera production was declared by the Washington Post music critic "... as good as any Bohème you are likely to see this side of the Metropolitan Opera or Covent Garden."

Whether aiming for the skies or pioneering journalism programs in China, the University of Maryland is surging ahead. Building on the work of outstanding faculty and students, and with the loyal support of alumni and friends, Maryland is moving aggressively and confidently to a decade that will shine brighter than any other in its history.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND™



DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
EIGHTH YEAR

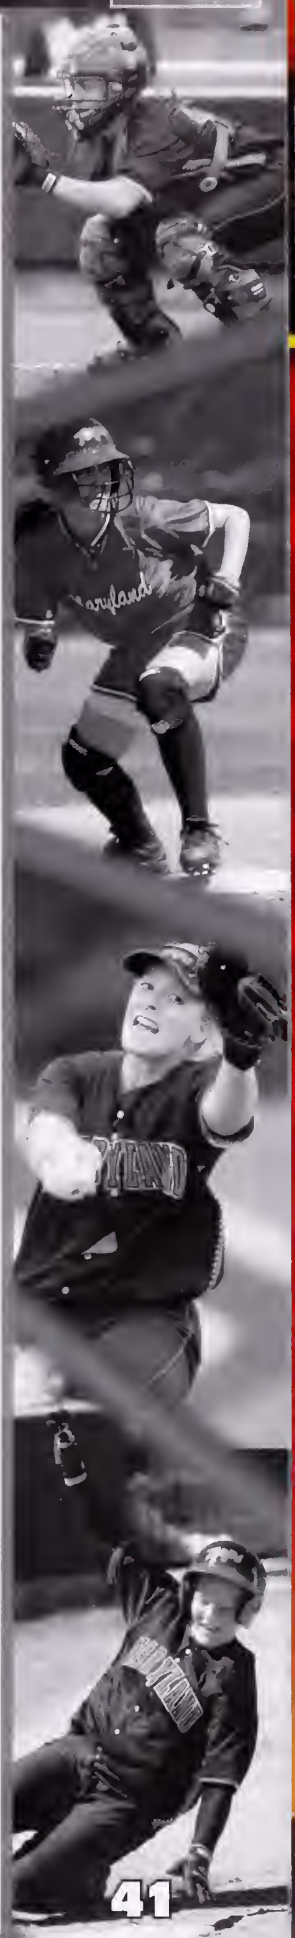
In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state-of-the-art sports complex; a high-tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.



DEBORAH A. YOW

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR • 13TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 13th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought steady and continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 13 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 14 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored recently by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Terp Buck Williams as honorees.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Manageme Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegia athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, sh and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsiv goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and mo than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 12 of the department's annual budge (none of the budgets were balanced in the 1 years prior to her arrival). The budget has no reached $52 million annually and the multi-millio dollar accumulated operating debt which he administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic suppo services provided for student-athletes, with a enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate c approximately 85 percent for student athletes a Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports rankin in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raisin efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a resul private gifts to athletics have increased over 35 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues hav increased by over 300 percent during her tenure a Maryland.

IN DECEMBER OF 2004, DEBORAH A. YOW WAS NAMED ONE OF THE MOST INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS BY STREET & SMITH'S SPORTS BUSINESS JOURNAL.

Dr. Yow congratulates one of the members of the Competitive Cheer team that won the 2006 NCA Division I National Championship.

- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable four national championships during the 2005-06 academic season.
- In 2005-2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most well-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. Graduation rates in football are near 80 percent and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen. The 2006 season saw the Terps finish with a 9-4 record and a 24-7 win over Purdue in the Champs Sports Bowl.

- Additionally, Maryland is one of only two universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford is the only other NCAA Division I institution to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,243 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four three times in the past four seasons.
- Field Hockey earned a National Championship in 2005-06 and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championships from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Men's Soccer appeared in four consecutive Final Fours from 2002-05 and won the NCAA National Championship in the 2005 season.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2005-06, 13 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 12 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Jessica Myers (right) works with the softball team.

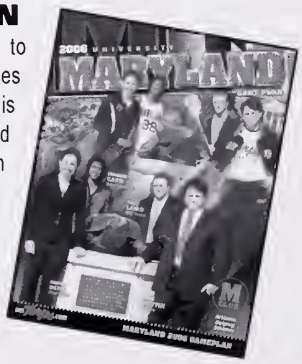
The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of ILP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.



CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills PROGRAM

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS COMMITMENT STATEMENTS

Commitment to Academic Excellence To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

MEDIA GUIDELINES

Credentials: Media and photographer credentials for events at Maryland's Robert E. Taylor Stadium may be obtained by working press, radio and television by writing or calling Ben Dooling in the Maryland Athletic Media Relations Office, 2725 Comcast Center, College Park, MD 20741-0295. All requests should be submitted at least 48 hours prior to the event by phoning the Media Relations Office at (301) 314-7068. Since space is limited, accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers and wire services, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Priority is granted to members of the media who cover Maryland athletics on a regular basis, and to visiting media members. Photo passes will be issued only to accredited photographers on assignment.

Services: The Media Relations Office will provide complete statistics at the conclusion of every home game. Programs containing rosters and event notes on each team will be provided for the working media.

Fax Machine: The Media Relations Office has one facsimile machine, located in Room 2725 of Comcast Center, which is available upon request. The fax number is (301) 314-9094.

Terps on the Web: For up-to-date game stories, statistics, schedules and results, and other Maryland athletic department information, please locate www.umterps.com on the Internet.
